THIS IS UNEVALUATED INFORMATION

On 14 June 1955, the Press Office of the GDR Foreign Ministry informed the editor's office of a bourgeois party in East Berlin that henceforth the editors-in-chief of all East German newspapers have direct access to foreign embassies accredited in Berlin. Until that date, journalists who wanted to visit foreign embassies had to apply for interviews through the GDR Foreign Ministry and to state in writing the questions which they were going to ask at the embassy involved.
